

Alliance for Vulnerable Mission Bulletin – July 2010

Wishing those in the northern hemisphere a good summer!

The thing I would most like to focus on in this issue of the Bulletin, is encouraging AVM folks to engage in the Cape Town 2010 Lausanne conversation that is already going strong on the web. To participate, go to: <http://conversation.lausanne.org/>

Or to go directly to the AVM site: <http://conversation.lausanne.org/groups/view/1024>

The Lausanne conversation provides an excellent opportunity to discuss issues that are critical to the future of mission with a wide variety of stake-holders and scholars. I encourage members of this alliance to get involved and make the case for vulnerable mission!

The article below considers Bible translation holistically. “If [people] ... are denied the Word of God in their heart language, then there is less likelihood of complete holistic transformational development occurring” concludes Kirk Franklin. <http://www.wycliffe.net/Missiology/BibleTranslationandMission/tabid/94/Default.aspx?id=832>
